講演題目: How to start your startup?
Silicon Valley way of entrepreneurship and innovation

Everyday you use Facebook, Twitter, Instagram, Gmail, and buy things on Amazon even you live in Japan. These companies are all from Silicon Valley, in USA. Fortunately in Japan, our government, corporates, Universities are now keep to provide innovation and set up co-working spaces and start acceleration programs. It helps to build 'innovation eco-system' for helping startups's business growth. In today's lecture, we like to learn the Silicon Valley way to startup your own startup. No.1 Accelerator Y Combinator educated over 2000 startups and their valuation is now over 100 Billion USD since they found in 2005. We will explain how Y combinator chooses their applicants and grow them to be 'unicorns'.
